Seiterre’s Amarone ”Platò”

scritto da Wine Meridian Editorial Staff | 12 Dicembre 2022

The pleasantness of the drink and its harmonic complexity have fully emerged in Seiterre’s Amarone “Platò”.
After a good oxygenation in the glass, its nose of red forest fruit and cherry reveals balsamic notes and spices that already define the notion of a well-structured and interesting wine.
The olfactory width, accompanied by delightfully fragrant notes, is confirmed on the tongue, where the rich and round flavor is typical not only of the appellation, but above all of well-made wines derived from Corvina, Molinara, and Rondinella grapes, which provide their greatest territorial expression.
“Platò” is a remarkable wine, fully confirming the typicality of a suitable territory and carefully cultivated vines.
Indeed, Seiterre’s wine reveals its authenticity in its roundness and balance, emphasizing its qualities—especially when well-paired with food, when Amarone “Plat” emerges as the star—in order to bring out its unique qualities.

We tasted it with a deer fillet, with a thyme sauce to balance out the lean side of the meat, and the Amarone provided the right balance in the match.
We also like to draw attention to the wine’s potential for cellar maturation, which is shown by a well defined acidity and a protracted, velvety finish.

Company Profile

Seiterre is an historic Italian winery with 150 years of experience. Born in 1877 from the passion dedicated by Rizzi family to the cultivation of grape and the production of wine in their winery in Trentino area (North of Italy), Seiterre today, with the fifth generation, means a large company present with its own production on 350 hectares in six different Regions in Italy: Trentino, Veneto, Friuli, Lombardia, Piemonte, Toscana. That’s the meaning of the word Seiterre: 6 territories, 6 different geographical areas, climates, terrains and vines producing the most worldwide famous Italian wines. Seiterre directly manages the process of cultivation of the grapes, harvests and vinification, bottling, packaging, sales, logistic: that’s why our slogan is: “From the Soil to the Table” Keeping the same passion of 150 years ago for the vineyard’s cultivation, we implement today the most innovative processes for environmental sustainability both in cultivation, in production and sale of our high quality wines certified by SQNPI. Tradition, history and passion are interwined with innovation, research and quality. These are the values that have been handed from geenration to generation by the Rizzi Family, represented today by Luigino Rizzi (Owner, Oenologist – 4th generation) and Anna Rizzi and Carlo Alberto Manerba (5th generation).
