

Unlocking Wine Future 2023: delve into industry insights from home

scritto da Sara Migliorini | 3 Gennaio 2024

The wine industry, a realm steeped in tradition and innovation, continuously seeks ways to adapt to a changing landscape. The recent Wine Future event provided a pivotal platform for industry leaders and experts to delve into the challenges and opportunities defining the vinicultural world today. For those who couldn't attend, fear not – the treasure trove of recorded sessions is now at your fingertips.

Whether you missed out on the event or desire to reimagine yourself in its enlightening discussions, the recordings offer a gateway to invaluable insights.

What's on offer?

The recorded content encapsulates the event's essence, available in two distinct packages:

1. Individual sessions, panels, or keynotes – At $40 per segment, you can cherry-pick specific areas of interest for in-depth exploration.
2. The full conference experience – For $175, access all eight panels, five keynotes, and an exclusive inclusion of two tastings, encapsulating the event's breadth and depth.

A limited opportunity: special promotion

The first 100 purchasers of the full conference package will avail themselves of a special offer at $99 instead of the standard $175. It's an unparalleled chance to grasp the entirety of Wine Future's essence at an incredible value.

Moreover, those opting for the full conference package unlock an added bonus: access to tastings and masterclasses hosted by revered figures in the industry, Mark Squires and Richard Mayson.
