

Italian Wines in the World: Malbone of Terraquilia

scritto da Redazione Wine Meridian | 11 Marzo 2016

TERRAQUILIA

2013

Malbone

la QUALITA' nella TRADIZIONE  I T A L I A N A

Terraquila

The wine cellar is located in a pristine area at approximately 450 m a.s.l. in Guiglia (MO). It produces bottled natural, secondary-fermentation wines and has a production philosophy that has ancient roots and enhances the organoleptic characteristics of the vineyards: the ancestral method. All the wines feature low sulphite content, which make them a natural and healthy wine.

Production area: Emilia

Established: 2003

Hectares: 5

Yearly production (bottles): 40.000

Via Caldana

41052 Guiglia – Modena

Tel. +39 059 931023

Fax +39 059 931776

info@terraquilia.it

www.terraquilia.it

MALBONE

Wine: Red

Year: 2013

Yearly production (bottles): 3.000

Ageing: Bottle

Designation: IGT

Grapes (%): Malbo Gentile 100%

The Terraquilia winery can be found in the high hills of the Emilian terroir famous for its Lambrusco, and it stands out for having used a decisively traditional production philosophy. Malbone expresses a very personal aromatic character, where the more usual hints of blackberry and blueberry take their place alongside hints of sweet spices, wet soil, geraniums, smoke, coffee and chocolate in a mix where the tannins, still developing, are controlled by a soft flavour that closes richly and bitterly. Enjoy it with traditional tagliatelle with meat sauce.