

Italian wines in the world: Nudo 2017 Cannonau DOC Rosato

scritto da Redazione Wine Meridian | 26 Maggio 2018

NUDO CANNONAU DOC ROSATO 2017

Colour: rosé

Year of production: 2017

Price: 6,95 euro + iva

Annual production: 4.800 bottles

Denomination: Cannonau doc Rosato

Aging: 3 months in steel

Grapes: 100% cannonau

Nudo is nurtured by a passionate research to show off its bright pink garment that contributes to affirming a young, modern and fresh image of Cannonau, the historical native vine of the island.

The visual encounter with Nudo marks the beginning of an emotional journey in which the bottle, bright and elegant, seems hiding to leave the scene to the precious rosy nectar with persuasive chromatic notes.

Difficult to resist: approaching the nose and the aromatic profile of Nudo turns into pure emotion while chasing memories of sapid sea breezes, rose petals, passion fruits and wild strawberries.

While sipping it, the colors and aromas of the territory and the vine become liquid, pulpy and velvety. The balance reigns supreme: no indulgence to melliflue sweetness, fresh flashes of Mediterranean scrub and impeccable sapid perspectives outline a wine that is the true expression of a hard and pure territory but tender and welcoming with those who can interpret it with love.

Company Profile

Siddùra was created following a discovery made by two entrepreneurs who found and fell in love with an abandoned but charming property in the heart of the Gallura region. The vineyard, located in the centre of the estate, has been built completely underground in order to take advantage of the natural insulation provided by the soil. The company's objective is to produce wines which are identifiable with their terroir of origin.

SIDDÙRA